19th International Conference on Microwave and High Frequency Applications
September 11-14 2023, Cardiff UK

The 19th International Conference on Microwave and High Frequency Applications (AMPERE 2023) is an excellent opportunity to share the latest information about your company's products and services, with over 300 delegates from around the world at the last in-person AMPERE conference.

AMPERE 2023 will take place in the Centre for Student Life (CSL) at Cardiff University, with dedicated spaces for exhibitors in the atrium. There will be an industry focus on Wednesday 13th September, with an Exhibitor Showcase, allowing time to peruse exhibits and to network with other delegates. Poster sessions, lunches and coffee breaks will also take place in the atrium of the CSL, allowing plenty of interaction in the exhibitor area.

Please see overleaf for Exhibitor and sponsor packages

The Exhibitor Package is priced at £1750 and includes:

1. Your company logo as an exhibitor in the conference program
2. Your company logo as an exhibitor on the conference website, posters and leaflets
3. Your company logo on the Ampere website as an active link to your company website
4. A dedicated space in the exhibition area of the CSL atrium (including space, access to wifi and basic furniture).
5. Your company logo or name, on all pre-event materials and all onsite marketing materials and signage.
6. One full event registration for AMPERE 2023, which includes access to all plenary, keynote and technical sessions, the lunches and coffee breaks specified in the conference program, conference materials, and all scheduled events and social activities of the conference (including gala dinner).
7. Participant fee discount of £150 each for up to 3 additional delegates.

PLEASE NOTE: Exhibitor spaces are limited, so book early to avoid disappointment.

There will be dedicated time for delegates to explore the exhibits during the Exhibitor Showcase on Wednesday as well as during lunches, coffee breaks and poster sessions on each day.
